The President's Award for Youth Empowerment (TPA) is one of South Africa's leading youth achievement awards focusing on young people aged 14-24 from all walks of life. We want to work with schools, universities and youth organisations across South Africa to give young people the chance to do the Award programme and lead successful and fulfilling lives.

INTERNATIONAL AFFILIATION:

The President's Award (TPA) is proudly The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award in South Africa. Over time, we build confidence, dedication and commitment; attributes we all want to see in our young people in school, life and in the workplace.

Decide to sign up today and commit to completing your Award! Upon completion, young people receive a certificate that bears the signatures of His Royal Highness The Duke of Edinburgh, Prince Philip and His Excellency President Cyril Ramaphosa.

This is an opportunity of a lifetime! You can sign up online on our website www.presidentsaward.co.za or enrol through your Teacher/Award Leader overseeing implementation of the award at your school/centre. Employers and universities globally tell us they are looking for young people who have achieved the Award when they recruit. We know being an Award Holder improves employability.

"Most of our TPA learners at Merensky High School are over-achievers, they are consistently recognised for academic and sports achievements. The President's Award, however also gives recognition to those learners who wouldn't necessarily make the 1st team nor be in the top 10 in terms of academics. Most of our learners do the Award to purely be accepted at university and I believe that it works. Tracking back on those who have achieved their Gold and since left the school, we can definitely attest that TPA was a worthwhile experience for them. The Award is indeed a token of pride for them, which further exposes them to ample opportunities in life."
 - Yolande Rautenbach, Teacher (Award Leader) at Merensky High School
